In the living room, the sofa is a custom design, the side table is by Hervé Van der Straeten, and the plaster frieze and portrait below it are 19th-century French; the walls are painted in Farrow & Ball's Pigeon. FACING PAGE, CLOCKWISE FROM TOP: Bronze sconces by Van der Straeten flank a Marc Bankowsky mirror in the dining room; the circa-1890 sideboard holds antique Wedgwood creamware. The walls in the library are covered in linen, and a Jules Leleu daybed from the 1950s is upholstered in a Wolf Home silk. An antique French daybed and a pair of portraits by Aponte in his studio; the sisal rug is from ABC Carpet & Home. See Resources.

The master bedroom features a Van der Straeten mirror, a Bankowsky light fixture, and chairs by Rateau from the 1920s; the headboard is vintage Chinese Chipendale, the bed linens are from John Derian Dry Goods, and the oak-and-mahogany floors are original. FACING PAGE: In the sitting room, the sofa and chaise longue are vintage, and the 1940s Leleu armchair is from Maison Gerard; the antique gilt mirror is English, and an Etruscan cup is centered in a gilt frame. See Resources.
