

This Week's One Beautiful Thing

Yongjin Han sculpture

This sculpture is the work of artist Yongjin Han and is a true collaboration with nature. He shaped a piece of pink Connecticut granite and topped it with a found stone. For years the pair has graced his property. In June it will travel to Maison Gerard- New York \(http://maisongerard.com/\) for his solo exhibition- June 22nd to August 22nd. Great care was taken when moving the sculpture from the artist's own garden to preserve the natural patina that only time can create.
