BOOK BOUNTY

Four new tomes offer design inspiration—and escape. BY BEBE HOWORTH

GARDENS

The updated edition of Beatrix Farrand: Garden Artist, Landscape Architect (Monacelli) celebrates the work of the renowned garden designer, the only female founder of the American Society of Landscape Architects, with brand-new photographs and watercolor sketches.

ARCHITECTURE

Piero Portaluppi (Rizzoli) enthralls with visits to the iconic Milanese architect's most vital projects, from the city's lush Villa Necchi Campiglio (committed to the screen in Luca Guadagnino's 2009 film I Am Love) to the facade of Cadarese, a hydroelectric power plant in the Val d'Ossola region.

PROFILES

Architect Bob Wesley, sculptor Paula Whaley, and Olympian Lillian Greene-Chamberlain are just three of the 54 Black elders highlighted in Lift Every Voice: A Celebration of Black Lives (Hearst Home), a compelling new book that includes a foreword by Oprah Winfrey.

INTERIORS

Rose Tarlow: Three Houses (Vendome) gives readers an intimate glimpse at three of the ELLE DECOR A-List interior designer's own family homes in California and Provence, France, with photography by Miguel Flores-Vianna, François Halard, and Fernando Montiel Klint.
